Always relevant for your business needs

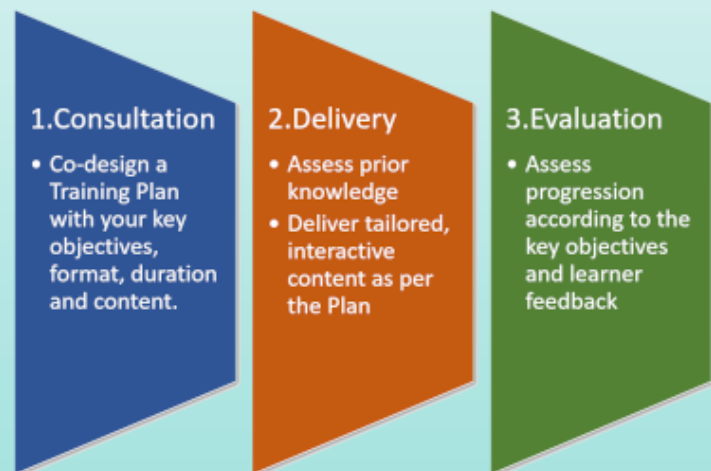

Linguicity Training provides short courses in Microsoft technology for businesses. An intensive and tailored approach ensures your employees gain relevant, practical and future-proof skills that are aligned with your business priorities.

Migration to cloud has accelerated in 2021 as companies adapt to remote working at scale as the 'new normal'. Our training prepares your IT staff to support Microsoft 365 users and helps managers optimise collaboration across their project teams.

We understand the opportunity that workforce skills bring to your business. Employees who feel confident to innovate with digital tools have a multiplier effect on your growth prospects.

A partner in your workforce skills strategy

With Linguicity Training's 3-stage approach, there's no fluff. Our focus is on outcomes: developing the digital agility of your employees.

We all aspire to be lifelong learners these days. Some people may find the abundance of public resources available on the Internet are all they need. Others appreciate the guidance of a tutor who can adjust the pace, explain the context, and respond to questions. At Linguicity, we believe that small groups are invaluable for sharing knowledge and creating a dynamic learning environment, whether online or on-site. A typical Linguicity course has just 4-8 attendees with plenty of opportunity for discussion and labs for hands-on experience.

DON'T TAKE OUR WORD FOR IT!

- "Linguicity tailored various aspects to our own environment setup which made the training both meaningful and relevant. I would definitely use Linguicity again for any future training needs."

- IT Project Manager, national manufacturer, UK

- The Microsoft 365 course was very informative with great 'real world problems'. Excellent instructor – confident in answering questions. Overall – I would give this a 10/10!

- 3rd Line Technical Analyst

- "The coverage on governance of Teams was far in excess of anything I could have done by myself."

- Business owner, payroll processing company

Microsoft 365: Modern management

With the ever-increasing number of innovative cloud services available on Microsoft 365, the return on investment for cloud migration has never looked stronger. Large and small companies are benefiting from secure email with Exchange Online, fully-featured publishing with SharePoint Online, OneDrive storage with version control, and of course Teams as the collaboration hub across the whole platform—among many other SaaS applications and integrations.

For IT professionals, SaaS frees up their time spent managing on-prem infrastructure. It also creates new challenges, especially where hybrid cloud/on-prem will be the reality for some time to come. Microsoft's 'modern management' approach acknowledges the porous nature of the company boundary, giving IT pros a wealth of centralised, policy-based tools for controlling access to applications, devices, data and licensing costs.
